Paintul Accident.—As the steamer James P. Flint, says The Statesman of the 23d inst., was coming over the rapids between this city and Portland, last Wednesday afternoon, the "crown seat" of her boiler sunk, and the steam escaping, so badly scalded the engineer, Mr. John Dennis, that he died in 16 hours. He was standing immediately before the furnace door, and received the full current of the steam, literally flaying him alive. He was brought to this city, where his remains were interred. He formerly resided in New-Albary, Ind., where he leaves a wife and child. It is supposed the immediate cause of his death was the inhalstion of steam. He was 29 years of age.

Capt. Van Bergen, of the F.int, caused every attention to be bestowed upon the unfortunate man, and refused to leave him until death ended his sufferiags and he had performed the last kind office of burial.

THE SCHOONER HARRIET SAFE.—We THE SCHOONER HARRIET SAFE.—We learn that the schooner Harriet, which left here for San Francisco some time in December last, and which was supposed to be lost, arrived at Olympia, Puget's Sound, a few days since—passengers and crew all well. The Harriet sustained, soon after leaving port, considerable injury, and was driven by the storms as far to the morthward as 54 degrees, where she had been knocking about until a favorable opportunity broughther to Olympia. She had on board a large cargo of hogs, all of which either died or were killed for food. The persons on board have suffered every privation, having been on short allowance for some time, and living on muscles, which were obtained along the ceast. They, however, enjoyed good health all the time. The passengers took passage on the Columbia, at Rainier, for San Francisco. [Oregonian, 13th.

of Judge Nelson in this County, while we will so far as possible endeavor to abstain from any course of conduct that will lead to breaches of the peace, we will treat all such attempts as an open violation of the laws of the country—an

FIVE DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE FRANKLIN.

Dates-London, April 15; Paris, 14. COTTON FIRM.

CONSOLS, 991@991.

By the arrival of the U.S. Mail steamship Franklin, Capt. J. A. Wotton, we are in possession of files of London and Paris papers, with letters from our various correspondents, conveying news from Europe of five days later date than that received by the last Liverpool steamers.

The Franklin left Havre at 8 A. M. on the 15th inst. touched at Cowes on the evening of the same day, and having received the usual semi-weekly mails via Southampton, took her final departure from Cowes at 7 P. M. on the 15th inst.

The Franklin brings 97 passengers, a valuable cargo of French goods and $85,000 in specie. The Chimborazo and Naomi were entering the port of Havre as the Franklin left. In consequence of the lowness of the tides on the French coast, the Franklin was detained one day beyond her time of sailing at Havre. The low tides were occasioned by the long continuance of easterly winds.

April 26, in consequence of a thick fog, stopped engines at 8 P. M., within sound of the fog bell of the light-ship—remained there until 6 A. M. this morning.

-The following persons came passengers in the Franklin :

— The British and North American

-The British and North American Mail Steamer Niagara arrived in the Mersey on the 13th, having encountered very stormy weather.

-Much anxiety was felt for the arrival of the Washington, which left New-Yerk on the 27th March, for Bremen via Cowes. When the Franklin left the Washington was in her 20th day.

-The London Money Market was inereasingly easy, and the glut of unemployed capital continued. Consols had nearly reached par, and all sorts of money securities were rapidly rising in value.

ENGLAND.

- Of political affairs from England there is nothing new, the Houses of Parliament having adjourned for the Easter Holldays. The note of preparation for the ensuing general elections was, however, be ng sounded throughout the country, and everywhere the constituencies were preparing for the great contest which is finally and forever to settle the question of Free-Trade versus Protection.

-In the event of the Crystal Palace being pulled down, it was understood that a London firm had offered £70,000 for the building, and intended to recrect it in one of the suburbs for the purpose of a winter garden. In consequence of an order from the Government, the building has been closed to the public, and, we fear, will be soon removed.

-The bookselling difficulty continues to excite attention. Two close columns of The Times of the 15th are filled with the report of an interview between the leading friends of the present system, Mosers. Murray, Longman, Bohn, Rivington, and Lord Campbell, who, with Mr. Milman and Mr. Grote, had been appointed arbiters. The question was fully argued in favor of the present system, and Lord Campbell said that he must reserve any expression of opinion until he had heard the other side, of which Messrs. Bentley, . Chapman and others, are the representatives.

- A long correspondence has taken place between the Admirality and all the leading coast officers in reference to the probable loss of two large ships upon the northern coast of America. It was occasioned by the following statement from Captain Coward of the ship Renovation, which is again at sea, but upon whose return strict inquiry will be instituted :

return strict inquiry will be instituted:

"April, 1851, when near the east edge of the bank, of!
Newfoundland, in lat 45° 30°, N., wind N. E., fresh breezes and clear weather, as much as I could carry foretopmast-studdingsail, fell in with icebergs, one of which was very large, with field ice attached to it, in which there were two three-masted ships, having their masts struck and yards down, and all made snug; to all appearance they had passed the winter together in the ice.
About 5 o'clock in the morning, when within one mile of them, the mate called me to see the berg and ships; by the time I got up and dressed and on deck, my ship was abreast of them; took spying-glass and carefully examined them to see if there was any one on board, but could not see any one. At the time, I did not think of Sir John Franklin's missing ship; anxiety to get shead out of the danger, while the weather was clear from fogs, and being too far past before I could make up my mind, caused me not to reduce sail and examine them more accurately. I am since of opinion they might possibly be the missing ships."

The Admiralty wish to ascertain if the ships might be

"The greatest activity has been displayed to-day at the Dockyard to complete the stores required for the vessels of the Arctic Expedition, that all may be on board to-night or early to morrow morning, as the whole of the squadron are under orders to proceed down the river between 9 and 10 o'clock A. M., on Thursday, April 15. The Monkey steam vessel, Second Master Sallenger, will tow the Assistance, Captain Sir Edward Belcher, C.B.; the Zephyr steam vessel will tow the Resolute, Captain Kellett, C.B.; and the Adder steam vessel will tow the North Star, Commander Pullen, to Greenbithe, where they will have their compasses adjusted. The Intrepid screw steam vessel, Commander M'Chitock, and the Piencer screw steam vessel, Lieutenan-Commander Osborn, will each get up their steam and proceed to Greenbithe at the same time."

—Arrivals of gold from Australia etill

-Arrivals of gold from Australia still continued, and a great number of Mining Companies had been formed, and were forming for the working the gold mines in Australia. The shares of the Californian Gold Mining Companies, on the other hand, were temporarily discredited, and had fallen slightly in value. A mania for mining in Australia is likely to set in amongst the English people, consequent upon the recent accounts.

BRITISH INDIA.

-The Overland Mail with dates from China, February 27, Bombay, March 15, Calcutta, March against Burmah consisted of 6,000 troops, two ships of war and thirteen war steamers. Additional forces from China were expected. The departure of the expedition was to take place from Calcutta and Madras on the 19th March. The forces were to rendezvous at the mou of the Cass or the eastern branch of the Irawaddy. It would probably proceed up the latter branch to avoid the resistance provided on the route by Rangoen, where 20,000 Burmese troops were assembled. British forces had orders to advance to Prome. Parties of Burmese had ravaged the frontier villages.

The political offenders who have been transported into Algeria are to be divided into three categories. The first is to comprise those who possess property or are skillful workmen, and they are to be placed in the tewns on the coast, where they can live on their incomes or obtain employment. These persons would have been unit for sgricultural labor, and the expense of establishing them in the agricultural colonies would have been very considerable. The second category is to consist of such of the transported as present guarantees of good conduct, or express repentence; they are to be placed in different villages as free colonists, under the simple superintendence of the authorities. In a short time the government will probably afford them pecuniary assistance, so that they may colonize on their own account. The third category is to comprise the more dangerous portion of the transported. They are to be divided among several camps or villages, in bands subjected to severe discipline; but their food and lodging are to be carefully provided, and if their conduct be good, they may become free colonists, obtain possession of land, and be joined by their families. The districts to which the second and third categories are to be sent, are Eirkadem, Douera, Maison Carrée, Bourkika, Ain-Benian, Ain-Sultan, and, if necessary, Tixoraln and Oued Boutan, in the province of Algeria; Bona, Caroubler, and the Dréan, in the province of Gonsantina, and Mers el Kébir, in the province of Oran. It is expected that the laber of the transported will greatly facilitate the colonization of Algeria. The transported of the first class, who are, it is said, very grateful for the concession made to them, intend to send for their families.

PORTUGAL.

-Advices from Lisbon of the 31st March, state that in consequence of an adverse vote in the Cortes, which threw the Ministry into a minority on the Reform Act, the Duke of Saldanha and all his colleagues tendered their resignations. The Queen, however, declined to accept it, and authorized the Prime Minister to take any measures he thought proper.

After an ineffectual attempt to induce the majority to come to a compromise, it was resolved to adjourn the Chambers till the 20th May. The country remained in a letter from Oporto, dated March 30:

"A most lamentable occurrence, in the loss of the steamer Porto, (Portuguese,) has thrown this city into the greatest consternation; all her passengers, (36 in number) having perished, and only seven of her crew saved. That unfortunate vessel sailed from this port on Sunday morning for Lisbon, and from some cause or another bore up again after being as far south as Figueira, and en taking the bar last evening about 6 o'clock she struck on some rocks called the Forçados, inside the bar, when the anchor was let go, but somehow or other she drifted, and, not answering her helm, she got imbedded in a reef of rocks, where no sid could be sent to her; and night coming on, she went to pieces in a few hours. Among the sufferers are Mr. Joseph Allen, of this place, and two daughters; Mr. Anderson, frem London, shipowner, who was here on account of the Harriet, bound to Australia; Mons. Destrées, French Consul at this port; Mr. Anderson's nephew; Senhor José Augusto da Silveiro Pinto, nephew of the well-known Senhor Albano, of Lisbon; Senhor Antonis José Placido Braga; Senhor Francisco Vieira de Sousa Oliveira, of the Commercial Bank. As yet no bodies have been picked up."

SPAIN.

-The new law on the press, published by the Spanish Government, is almost a copy of that re-cently promulgated in Paris by Louis Napoleon.

-El Clamor, La Nacion, El Heraldo, La Epoca, and El Observador were seized on the 7th, La Esperanza mentions having suppressed its first leader in consequence of the rigor with which the other journals were treated. The directors of the Madrid journals met on the previous day to deliberate on the course they should pursue under the new law on the press. Some suggested the propriety of suspending protemporatheir daily publications, but no resolution was adopted, opinion being extremely divided.

was not expected to lead to any change in the domestic or foreign policy of the Austrian Government.

-A law on the crime of rebellion is in preparation. It is said that governors of provinces will have the right, should circumstances demand it, to invest the civil authorities with military power, and thus in fact proclaim a state of siege. The Editors of the weekly journal of Teschen, which is printed in the Polish language, have received notice not to continue to preach up national separation and to propagate Panslaviam.

-The Emperor of Austria is expected at Prague on the 18th or 19th for the fête of his uncle, the ex-Emperor Ferdinand. The Court of Saxony will be present at the fêtes which will take place on the occasion. It is stated that the Emperor Francis Joseph will visit Pesth in May. -The Emperor of Austria has addressed to the Senate of Hamburgh a letter of thanks for the kind reception of his troops in that city, and announcing that, as a proof his satisfaction, he has granted a pardon to Ruessack, the citizen of Hamburgh who was in prison in Austria awaiting his trial for high treason.

-The Barsenhalle, of Hamburgh, states that on the day after the death of Prince Schwartzen-berg the Emperor of Austria sent a circular to all his am-bassadors at foreign courts, ordering them to announce that this event would cause no change in the domestic or foreign policy of his government.

EGYPT.

-By advices from Alexandria to the 4th of April we learn that Fuad Effendi had come from Constantinople on a special mission, to confer with Abbas Pasha on the subject of the Tanzimat, and to ascertain whether the charges made against him at Constantinople are well founded. It is probable that he will advise the Porte to cede the power of life and death possessed by Mehemet Ali, as the representatives of France and Russin have advised that the differences should be amicably arranged without further delay.

-The railway is progressing-some 12,000 to 15,000 people are at work at various places on the line, throwing up the embankment, pulling down houses, preparing stone for bridges, and making a cutting, which at this end will be from 12 to 15 feet deep, passing through a number of streets in the suburbs outside the city walls,

Liverpool Corn Market APRIL 13. Liverpool Corn Market.....April 13.

The weather continues dry, with light easterly winds, and the want of rain is beginning to be felt on the pasture lands, winter fedder being hearly exhausted. The arrivals of Grain and Flours are this week upon a moderate scale, while the exports are fiberal. Ireland continues to take the most from us; the trade here during the week has been strengthened by further purchases of Red Whear for the sister country at prices rather over the quotations of last Thesday. Though the business transacted in Whear and Flours at this morning's market was not large, the general demand was certainly better than on this day se might, and at extreme prices for both articles, holders exhibiting much firmness with their samples. Several thousand quarters of Egyptian Beans changed hands, and fully recovered a decline of 6d. & quarter which had been submitted to during the week.

London Corn Markets. At the Mark-lane Coan Markets.

At the Mark-lane Coan Market, on the 12th inst., the supply of English Wheat was very moderate, but the previous week's prices were only harely meintained. More confidence was shown by the holders of foreign Wheat. The supply of English Barley was very short and prices firm. Beans and Peas were in improved demand. Flour dull of sale. Floating cargoes of Wheat from the Mediterranean commanded full prices, and Indian Corn was held at an advance of 6d, per quarter. A rally in the Corn markets was shortly expected.

per quarter. A rally in the Corn markets was shortly expected.

APRIL 14.—The downward movement in the price of Wheat appears to have caused a general falling off in the supplies. At the principal provincial markets held yesterday (Liverpool, Leeds, Hull, Lynn and Spalding) the quantity brought forward for sale was very limited; and although no quotable advance was obtained, yet the sellers had the rurn in their favor, and more confidence appears to prevail that the downward tendency is checked. Here, in Marklane, a similar feeling exists; but the huyers were so completely befiled in their calculations by the late decline taking place without any assignable cause that they appear to be holding off till the shortness of the supply actually drives the market up.

The fresh arrivals of all Grain this morning were univer rally small, yet no sensible effect was produced on the pric. The business done was, however, at fully Monday's rates.

Sugar—The market opened to-day with rather more firmness, the sales being moderate, comprising only 8,340 bags Mauritius, which, being of salable quality, sold freely at rather stiffer rates. The following are the prices realized: 33,6d,234,6d, for good middling; 31/235 for middling yellow; 30/ for soft gravish yellow, and 28/6d,25/ for good strong brown refining. During the holidays, two cargoes have been sold afloat, one of Havana (No. 31½) at 21/6 for Trieste, and the other of Pernambuco at 12/6d, for Bremen.

500 boxes Havana are reported on the spat at 33/6d,25/34/; 100 boxes at 35/6d, and 500 boxes white at 27/; also, 1,600 bags Paraiba, at 16/4° cwt. CITY ITEMS.

THE NEW MAIL ROUTE .- The Postmaster General has established a mail route between this City and Norfolk per steamship Roanoke. This mail closes at our Post-Office every Saturday afternoon at 3¼ o'clock, and it will ao doubt prove a convenience to those corresponding with Virginia and North Carolina, as letters by it will arrive in Norfolk at least twenty-four ours in advance of those sent via Baltimore, there being no boat from Baltimore on Sunday.

LADIES' UNION AID SOCIETY .- The first Anniversary of this benevolent Institution was celebrated last evening in the Green-st. M. E. Church. ▲ large congregation was present, who were addressed by Rishop Janes, Rev. Dr. Thompson, of Ohio, and several other Ministers of the Gospel, who exhorted them to assist in relieving those whom old age had prevented from earning a living. The proceedings were highly interesting.

WHAT IS OUR POLICE GOOD FOR !-Yesterday morning a brutal pugilistic encounter took place at Riker's Island, of which some account is given low. This affair was openly got up and arranged in this City—it was not only a common topic of conversa-tion in certain circles, but was advertised for several days in the official organ of that class of people; the name of one of the pugilists, the hour of starting, the name of the boat, and the places where tickets could be procured, were all published; yet not one of the hundred or more of detailed policemen, not one of the Cap-tains nor even the Chief himself made the first move to put a stop to the most flagrant violation of the laws, of which not one of them ought to have been ignorant, and nearly all must have been well informed. It would seem that since the election of a Common Council, which secures the Chief in his official station, the whole Department has been stricken by "a wise and masterly inactivity" which is the very twin-brother of laziness. There are honorable exceptions, but they are, unfortu-nately, in a minority so small as to be powerless. Of the ensive exhibition yesterday, our reporter makes the following notice:

A prize fight between two pugilists, named George Lees, of Troy, and Philip Clair, of Hudson, or Albany, came of yesterday morning at Riker's Island, in the presence of 600 spectators. The particulars of the fight are briefly as follows: In the first round, Lees threw his adversary and drew the first blood. In the next six rounds Clair was thrown each time. In the eighth, however, Clair struck his opponent four powerful blows in quick succession, which knocked him senseless. When the time was called Lees still remained insensible, and Clair was pronounced victor. When Lees fell, the report spread that he had been killed, and the whole assemblage started off for the boat at a quick pace. Clair leaped over the ring, and was in such a hurry that he outstriped the whole crowd, and arrived first. Lees, however, recovered before the boat left, and the excitement soon subsided. The stakes were $300 against $250, Clair having staked the former amount.

COUNTERFEITING CASE .- A man named James W. Ryall a few years since was convicted of manufacturing and passing base silver and gold coin and sentenced to the State Prison for ten years. After serving out about three years of his sentence, he was pardoned by the Executive upon the condition that he would leave the United States. He failed to do so, however, and as is allegad, has recently been engaged in carrying on his old business. Ryall was committed by the Chief of Police preparatory to being sent to Philadelphia.

The accused were committed to prison in default of $1,000 bail each.
